MANY HOTELS ARE BOOKED FULL FOR ALL NEXT MONTH

Tourists Arriving in Near Future Can Be Accommodated at Only Few Places

If conditions are the same in Honolulu during Carnival week as they are at present, the Moana, Young and Royal Hawaiian hotels, Alinahau, Hualala, the Biadell and Pierpont will be the only establishments, outside of private homes, which will be able to accommodate tourists who will come here for the annual celebration.

A check of the local hotels and boarding houses has resulted in finding that three-fourths of them are full and probably will not be able to accommodate any one else during the entire month of February.

T. B. Thiele, manager of the hotels of the Territorial Hotel Company, however, reports no difficulty in handling guests. "We have not found it necessary to refuse a single reservation," he says. "True, some who desired to stop at the Moana were advised that we might not be able to place them there on the date of arrival, and it was suggested to them to give us permission to make reservations, probably only temporary, at the Young instead, but all who applied to us have been assured of good accommodations while here."

"Weather conditions have rather interfered with the improvements planned at the Seaside, but as soon as it is possible that work will be undertaken and the company plans to add extensively to its facilities on the beach in the course of the year."

Every Room Reserved.

The Pleasanton hotel reports that it will not have one vacancy during February. Reservations have already been made by wireless and by letter by persons who are coming for the Carnival. About 12 tourists who have applied will be here on the next Great Northern.

Miss Mary Johnson, manager of the Colonial, says she will not be able to accommodate a single person during February. The Biadell may have several rooms vacant then, but can make no definite report at present. The Courtland also will be full, reservations for accommodations there having been made in advance.

Hualala is full at present, but during Carnival week there may be three vacancies, one being a large room in which three or four beds may be placed for the accommodation of a party of men. Heine's Tavern already has made reservations for a baseball team which will play here as a Carnival attraction. There probably will be no more room for further tourists at the Tavern during the celebration, although the present outlook is indefinite. The Pierpont, at Waikiki, now has only two cottages vacant, and it is expected that these will be taken before the first of next month.

Alinahau, of which Mrs. E. H. Lewis is manager, may be able to accommodate between 35 and 40 persons during the Carnival.

WILSON REJECTS TEUTON PLANS IN LUSITANIA CASE

President Insists Germany Admit Liability For Slaying of U. S. Citizens

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—It is understood here that the proposals made by Germany to the state department in her effort to settle the dispute over the sinking of the Lusitania by a Teutonic submarine, last year, have been definitely refused by the administration, acting under the direction of President Wilson.

America, it is said in official circles here, demands a strict accountability for the wanton killing of hundreds of Americans, and will insist that Berlin admit German liability for the lives of American citizens lost when the big Lusitania sank.

Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador to this country, will, it is asserted here, confer with Secretary of State Lansing at the state department today, in a final effort to smooth out the differences between the American attitude and that of his own country.

NEW INVENTIONS GIVEN TRIALS IN SUGAR INDUSTRY

Mr. R. Renton Hind, representing the Honolulu Iron Works, has been in the district, partly to have a tryout of the Hind-Ogg cane loader, which is the joint invention of Mr. John Hind and Mr. James Ogg, engineer at Pahala.

The invention named is virtually a dry, or waterless, method for carrying cane from the field, either to the mill, or to carts or cars. It operates like a pump, except that in the place of water an endless, cleated belt is the conveyor. Each section of this belt is 25 feet long, and is operated by a motor. Sections can be added indefinitely, up to a mile, or as long as is required. In places where fluming water is scarce, it should prove of inestimable value; and, in fact, anywhere.

The machine which was tried out last week at Hauli was built by Mr. James Ogg at Pahala.

Mr. Hind was here also to talk over the Searby shredder with the plantation men. This is another invention by an island man that promises to give a larger per cent. of extraction than has ever been made.—Kohala Midget.

JAPAN MINISTRY IS AGAIN UNDER FIRE

[Special Cablegram to Nippon Jiji] TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 25.—Against the Japanese diet is stirred by the conferring of the title and estate of the late Count Nogai, field marshal of the empire, upon the new count not of his blood. There was an attack upon the ministry early today in the diet and the Nogai affair was one ground for a resolution of impeachment.

Y. Sasaki of the Kokuminto party interpellated the ministry on the floor of the house. He was supported by C. Ito, also of Kokuminto. Premier Okuma and Minister of Justice Ozaki answered, but not precisely, and the question will come up in an executive session of the diet.

Detectives have arrested six more men in connection with the attempt to assassinate Premier Okuma. Today the police took into custody J. Onikura, formerly editor of the Tokio Hochi, Meguro and Maeda, who are believed to have made the bombs for others; Ooka, believed an accomplice of Meguro and Maeda; Captain Tomita, retired from the Japanese army, who is believed to have been the leader, and who was in hiding for several days; and S. Katsuj. Evidence against the last is not known. The men are in the Tokio city jail.

RUMOR COUNT OKUMA MAY SOON RETIRE

[Special to Hawaii Shimpoo] TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 26.—Reports are current in the capital that Count Okuma, the premier, intends to resign as soon as the session of the diet has closed, but that he will not resign under the fight of his enemies. It is also reported that he has already recommended his successor. Baron Kato, former foreign minister, is said to be the man, and should he find it impossible to take over the reins of the government after Count Okuma has laid them down, the recommendation has been made that General Terauchi or the Viscount Hirata be named in Okuma's place.

Congress Hears Leaders on Defense Plans

Senate Committee Hears Army Experts on Promotion of Efficiency

WORK OF OBSERVERS IN WAR ZONE Praised

Col. Treat Advocates Mobilization of Munition Plans as Vital to Nation's Safety

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—The Senate military affairs committee is conducting hearings on measures pending in the upper house affecting the army. One of the first witnesses called before the committee was Col. Charles F. Treat, an artillery officer attached to the General Staff Corps.

As an expert Col. Treat was asked to speak of the work being done by the military observers with the European armies in the field. These observers, said the colonel, have proved of enormous value to the war department's intelligence bureau. Their reports have been invaluable in preparing plans for the future conduct of possible operations by the military forces of the United States.

Among other things, the colonel told the committee that the celebrated French field gun, the "75," was the duplicate of the three-inch American field piece, save in the matter of speed. In the field, he said, the Gallic piece is the superior of ours. He added that the bureau of ordnance is now experimenting with the American gun in an effort to increase the speed of its projectile.

In answering questions put to him by the members of the committee, Col. Treat said that he is in favor of "mobilizing the munition plants now." He suggested making and storing in some safe place, patterns which would enable machine and munition plants all over the country to change quickly from their peace products to the manufacture of war munitions.

Gen. Crozier, head of the bureau of ordnance, told the committee that some method whereby manufacturers could shift quickly in time of war from the peace products to munition making was indispensable in any plan for mobilizing the resources of the nation to meet a possible foe. Preparedness, said the general, would enable the country to turn out 15,000 rifles of the new Springfield pattern a day, but failure to prepare would mean that, in an emergency, the demand for arms, and that a year would elapse before manufacturers could shift their plans so as to begin making rifles and guns.

Gen. McCain, another witness called before the committee, declared that the plan for raising an army of 300,000 men would prove difficult in this country, as he believes that it will be impossible to secure 50,000 volunteers as recruits a year.

STOMACH TROUBLES DUE TO ACIDITY

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antidote, such as bisulphated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. YUAN'S REASONS FOR NOT TAKING THRONE

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—Reasons for Yuan Shih-Kai's reluctance to force the question of his own coronation down the throats of the nation came here in despatches from China yesterday. These reports say that Yuan realized that, should he insist upon his own coronation the probabilities are that China would be excluded from the international conferences sure to follow the end of the war, and would have no say in the distribution of the territory which all believe will take place then.

COMPULSORY SERVICE BILL PUSHES THROUGH LORDS.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 26.—The measure providing for compulsory service in the army or navy, introduced some weeks ago by the government, yesterday passed its second reading in the house of lords. It has already passed the house of commons. Very little opposition to the bill has developed in the upper house.

SULTAN'S YACHT WOUNDED BY FRENCH TORPEDO.

BRITISH COMMONS PASSES "TRADING WITH ENEMY" ACT.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 26.—The house of commons yesterday passed the third reading of the so-called "trading with the enemy act," against which earlier in the day Secretary Lansing of the American state department had voiced a protest, according to despatches received here just prior to the passage of the measure, which now goes to the house of lords. It is understood that formal representations to Great Britain against including American trade in the provisions of the act have been made by the state department at Washington.

BYRCE ASKS U. S. TO SAVE ARMENIANS.

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 26.—Lord Bryce, former British ambassador to Washington, has addressed an appeal to the government of the United States asking that steps be taken by America to intervene in behalf of the Armenians driven from their homes in different parts of the Turkish empire by the Turks, to die of thirst and starvation on the deserts of Syria and Mesopotamia. The outrages against this defenseless people, says the appeal, are among the most hideous of this hideous war, and his petition is voiced in the name of humanity.

Representative Mann Urges Non-Partisan Support of Measures

SEE DANGER OF WAR WITH GREAT BRITAIN

Advocates Army of 300,000 and Navy Able to Repulse Any Foreign Foe

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—"Millions for preparedness instead of billions for defense."

That is the slogan of the new preparedness party in the two houses of Congress, and the note was sounded yesterday when Congressman Mann, former house leader of the Republicans, declared that the people of the United States and their representatives in Congress should consider all expenditures for putting the country into a state of real readiness for meeting any foe, "as insurance against the future."

Mr. Mann urged upon his hearers the need for unqualified and nonpartisan support of the program of preparedness as outlined by the administration. His remarks were frequently interrupted by prolonged applause from both sides of the house, and after his address was finished members of both parties congratulated him upon the effort.

No Immediate Prospect of War.

The Republican leader told his fellow members that he sees now no immediate prospect of the United States becoming involved in European conflict or in any other war, but, he added, "the danger that we may become involved is far too great to be ignored or disregarded by the people of the country or their representatives in this house."

Continuing, Mr. Mann said that, personally, he does not fear that the United States and Germany will clash during or after the war, indeed, he said, he believes that there is far more danger that Great Britain and America may come to blows.

Advocates Huge Standing Army.

Taking up the question of the increased army proposed by Secretary Garrison's plan for a colonial army, Mr. Mann declared that in his opinion 300,000 men are not too many for a country with the duties, responsibilities and dangers confronting the United States to have for its protection against war as well as against invasion.

He also pleaded for a better coast defense, and above all he declared that Congress should see to it that the navy "should be able to defend the nation's shores from all possible attacks by any foe."

CHICAGO PEOPLE ARE IN FAVOR OF TRAINING IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

A postcard canvass conducted by the Chicago Tribune among the parents of students in the Chicago high schools on the question of introducing military training into the schools resulted in an overwhelming vote in favor of the proposition. Of the first thousand replies, 821 favored it, 179 opposed it, which meant a favorable percentage of 82. Twenty-four hours later the total replies had reached 1739, of which 1493, or 86 per cent, were favorable. The showing made has surprised even advocates of an adequate military training system in Chicago. But it only serves to point the lesson driven home repeatedly, but without profit, in the past by those who realize the country's crying need, that once you make the people realize what military training really means, once you teach them to differentiate between militarism and national service, you will have no trouble in getting all the favorable legislation you need.

Y. W. C. A. CAFETERIA MAKES GOOD SHOWING

That the up-to-date cafeteria in the new Young Women's Christian Association headquarters is being well patronized is evident from the showing of figures since the opening on January 4.

Daily receipts since January 4 are $22.80, the average daily attendance being 98. This makes the average check per person 23 cents. That the attendance is increasing is shown by the fact that in the last 10 days the average number of people coming to the cafeteria has been 108 a day.

Last year the average lunch room attendance in the Boston building rooms was 43, the average check being 17 cents, making the average daily receipts $7.31.

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless] MANILA, P. I., Jan. 25.—The Philippine assembly yesterday formally adopted a resolution asking Congress to pass the Clarke amendment to the Filipino independence measure, introduced by Congressman Jones. This amendment provides that the independence of the islands shall be given after a specified period, and that the United States shall guarantee the independence for another period following this.

NOTED MISSION WORKER, KNOWN HERE, IS DEAD

Mrs. Henrietta Wainwright, widow of Rev. Richard Wainwright and sister of Rt. Rev. Alfred Willis, D. D., assistant bishop for Tonga, died at her home in Baltimore, North Carolina, on January 4, according to mail advices received in Honolulu. She was 85 years old and was well known to many kamaaina.

When her brother was appointed bishop of the Sandwich Islands in 1872, Mrs. Wainwright, then Miss Willis, accompanied him here, where she married Rev. Mr. Wainwright. Prior to her marriage she stayed at the residence of Hon. W. L. Moehonua, minister of the interior, in the rear of the Opera house. After her marriage she took up Anglican church work on Kauai, with headquarters at Kapaa. She also devoted considerable time and attention to the work of Iolani College, which Bishop Willis founded in Bates street.

In 1884 Mrs. Wainwright and her husband returned to the mainland, the latter taking charge of the parish at Bowman's Bluff, North Carolina. Mr. Wainwright resigned in 1900 on account of his health and, with his wife, removed to Baltimore, where he died in 1902. Mrs. Wainwright was a personal friend of Queen Emma. Her family home was in Braceborough house, Stamford, England. She was a daughter of Francis Willis, M. D., a famous physician who was called in when George III suffered his first attack of madness.

If Cross, Feverish or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"
